2022 AIA Ohio Annual Meeting – President’s Report

By Aaron Hill, AIA

It has been a pleasure serving AIA Ohio members as President this year because of the dedicated group of architects that serve with me on the Board. I am constantly impressed and appreciative of the countless hours these individuals invest in advancing the organization for the benefit of our members and the profession. Over the past year, nearly every member of the AIA Ohio board met as often as weekly as a part of a workgroup focused on advancing one of the four goals of AIA Ohio’s newly defined Strategic Plan. These four strategic goals are: Enhancing Member Engagement, Expanding Government Advocacy, Elevating the Profession, and Ensuring Organizational Vitality. We can already see significant progress in advancing our goals through the strategies being implemented.

At the beginning of this year, with uncertainty still surrounding the desire and ability to gather in large groups, AIA Ohio made the decision to ease back into our first in-person programming since the Fall of 2019, by pulling our typical annual convention apart into four separate events, each with a different focus.

Programming began in March, with a day in Columbus focused on advocacy for our profession. Following an “Advocacy Listening Session” to learn what issues were most important to our members, AIA Ohio took these issues to the Statehouse, holding meetings with ten State Senators and ten House Representatives. The four legislative issues that were most important to our members that we discussed with legislators were: Affordable Housing Opportunities, Expanding Historic Tax Credits, Sensible Building Codes, and Sustainability. Thank you to all the AIA Ohio members who participated in our legislative day, as the power of advocacy for our profession is through the voices of those individuals expressing interest and concerns to their legislators.

In addition to using our voices to advocate for the profession, we also used the AIA Ohio PAC. This is an important tool that allows AIA Ohio to strategically support statewide office holders identified as able to further advance our legislative priorities. Under the leadership of Mary Glowacki, the PAC committee raised a record number of contributions with a total in excess of $15,000 this year. Every local AIA component in Ohio showed their support for the AIA Ohio PAC by answering the challenge to have 100% donor participation from their Board members.

Our programming continued in July, as members gathered in Dayton for thought-provoking sessions and experiences at a Technology Summit that allowed members to better understand changes in technology and the impact those changes have on the profession. From 3D-printed homes to the use of drones and bioluminescent flora, the sessions focused on new trends in advancing, improving, and expanding the impact of architecture. Having just returned from the AIA National Conference weeks prior to this Technology Summit, I felt the unique quality of these sessions surpassed the programming of AIA National. This type of carefully curated programming will help serve as a lesson for us as we reimagine the AIA Ohio convention moving forward.

The third installment of programming this year focused on the design achievements of Ohio's architects at the annual Design Awards celebration. In September, architects from across the state convened in Cleveland to celebrate design by recognizing Ohio's architects for the outstanding work that they do every day. AIA Ohio made a complete day of the Design Awards celebration, offering tours of significant projects around Cleveland on one of three different tracks: Visual and Performing Arts, Mixed-Use, or Historic. Following the architectural tours, we gathered at the Botanical Gardens for the AIA Ohio Design Awards program, where 18 projects were awarded. It was great to see the winners composed of 13 different firms, hailing from 6 of our 7 components, with 7 of them being small firms. During the ceremony, we also recognized the recipients of the AIA Ohio Student Design Competition from Ohio's five schools of Architecture. Thank you to everyone who submitted a record number of projects this year and congratulations to the winners.

Our fourth and final event of the year recognized our members for their service and contributions that have supported AIA Ohio's mission, at a beautiful rooftop dinner celebration. It was a privilege to recognize Steven Kordalski, FAIA with the AIA Ohio Gold Medal, Todd Boyer, AIA with the Public Service Award, and Zachary Forney, Assoc. AIA, with the Emerging Professional Award. It's inspiring to see the impact these, along with many of our other members are making to improve our profession. At this event, we also recognized our sponsors that were essential in our ability to support the initiatives of AIA Ohio this year. The financial support of Ohio's companies and firms exceeded our expectations this year, allowing AIA Ohio to provide valuable programming to its members.

I have enjoyed the camaraderie in being able to gather for programs in-person again this year and thank each of you that have taken the time to join AIA Ohio at these events, as we strive to improve ourselves as architects and the profession as a whole.

It has been an honor and privilege to lead AIA Ohio as President. As I pass the leadership torch on to President-Elect John Orsini, AIA, I look forward to seeing the organization continue to grow and prosper under his direction.

Aaron Hill, AIA

AIA Ohio President–Elect Report by John F. Orsini, AIA

The past year has proven to be another year of transition. AIA Ohio kicked off 2022 with hopes of joining together to further the mission of the institute and promote architecture in Ohio. Our current president, Aaron Hill, AIA, led our transition from a virtual institution to one of in-person gatherings. This transition also included various virtual opportunities for our members. AIA Ohio also continued the implementation of our strategic masterplan, developed in 2021.

Our strategic plan implementation included the formation of four work groups, each with a specific task and goal. These include the following work groups: Membership Engagement, Government Advocacy, Public Awareness and Organizational Vitality.

Membership Engagement: programming, communications, and convention.

Government Advocacy: legislative issues, advocacy and advocating for the profession.

Public Awareness: professional and public outreach.

Organizational Vitality: effective governance and operations, best practices, and financial stability.

While we continue the transition to in-person events, virtual learning capabilities allowed AIA Ohio and our components to share seminars statewide. The transition also included thoughts on gathering and convention. This year, AIA Ohio celebrated architecture with two different events, a technology summit in Dayton, Ohio, and a design symposium in Cleveland, Ohio. Both events provided insight into the current state of our profession and opportunities for the future. At the conclusion of the design symposium, AIA Ohio celebrated our architects and their respective designs. The board and I would like to thank Membership Engagement Group, AIA Dayton and AIA Cleveland for the planning and events that occurred throughout the year.

Public outreach efforts and the involvement of allied professions provided an avenue to promote our mission, as many of these professionals provided sponsorships to AIA Ohio. I would like to extend our gratitude and thanks to those who supported AIA Ohio as a sponsor.

I would like to thank Aaron for his thoughtful leadership and passion for the institute and our profession. It is that passion that allowed us to grow and venture back into a world of gathering and engagement. I look forward to his continued involvement in AIA Ohio as AIA Ohio's past president. In addition to Aaron, I would like to thank Karen Planet, AIA, our current past-president, for her knowledge, vision, and overall commitment to AIA Ohio. We hope to see her continued dedication to AIA Ohio and our profession.

AIA Ohio is constantly evaluating what we provide to our members and how we can promote our profession. It is our profession that provides spaces for gathering, living, and learning. I am humbled to work with our board, as each board member brings their own passion and vision to all we do. With that, I look forward to the upcoming year as AIA Ohio President.

Thank you,

AIA Ohio Government Relations Update

By Luther L. Liggett, Jr., Esq., Registered Lobbyist

Speaker Tip O'Neill famously claimed that, "All politics are local." With the demise of newspapers and the surge of social media, American voters split their ballots at the General Election held Tuesday, November 8, 2022, with varying results across the nation.

Statewide in Ohio, all Republican incumbent officeholders were re-elected with a 15% margin. In contrast, Democrats swept the Franklin County local races, just as is typical in Cuyahoga County. The good news is that voters appear to be listening, reading, and tailoring their votes to personal interests, not blindly supporting some political party banner.

On the Statewide ballot, both amendments to the Ohio Constitution passed:

Issue 1, Bail Bonds allows trial courts to set bail bonds high enough to be unaffordable to a defendant, to keep the defendant behind bars pending trial. Likely to be challenged as violating separation of powers is language stripping the Ohio Supreme Court of authority to write court rules, giving that job to the partisan General Assembly.

Issue 2, Non-U.S. Citizen's Vote expressly forbids foreigners living in the U.S. from voting, based on the example of the Village of Yellow Springs in local issues such as taxation.

General Assembly. The Ohio General Assembly will return after the General Election for only five days of House and Senate Floor sessions, with Committee meetings around those dates, trying to accomplish everything not done in the last two years. Still pending bills include:

Senate Bill 56, Design Professional Indemnity provisions in Public Contracts (passed both House and Senate, awaiting last-minute amendments). The bill has no opposition, but was hijacked for unrelated amendments. As a result, the bill languishes in a "conference committee" since April 5, 2022, to work out changes behind closed doors.

House Bill 203, Senate Bill 131, Out-of-State License "Reciprocity" (each bill requires 3 Committee Hearings in the other chamber). If either bill passes the other chamber, out-of-state licensed design professionals and contractors may obtain an Ohio license automatically, but without reciprocally granting the out-of-state license to an Ohio resident. Current law provides for equal reciprocity already.

House Bill 68, Private Contractor Prompt Pay (passed by the House, awaits Senate Committee vote and Floor vote).

Any legislation not passed by December 31, 2022 is abandoned. Next January, the House will select a new Speaker of the House, as Speaker Cupp is term-limited.

Sunset Review.

The Architects Board and Landscape Architects Board received notice that the legislature will review these licensing boards next spring, to determine whether the Boards should be terminated as an unnecessary obstacle to employment. The Ohio General Assembly is reviewing all licensure boards on a 5-year cycle, generally renewing all. Of particular risk is the possibility of combining the Architects' and Landscape Architects' Boards, given their unified staffing.

Senate Bill 9, Administrative Rule Reduction (enacted into law).

As noted in Sponsor Testimony, this new law is a philosophical enactment regardless of the practical impact on Ohio law: "SB 9 aims to restore to a healthy level the number of regulations in Ohio.  [T]he accumulation of new laws and regulations overtime slow economic growth and employment opportunities. It is like sludge in the economic engine."

Effective in June, 2022, all agencies must reduce administrative rules by a third over the next three years. Of particular concern is the Ohio Basic Building Code, which is adopted as a uniform body of rules across the nation, with Ohio amendments. AIA Ohio is working to develop an approach to help the Board of Building Standards to meet these requirements:

1. Each State Agency must reduce "regulatory restrictions" by 30% by June 30, 2025 (10% annually). See R.C. 121.95, "rules having one or more regulatory restrictions that require or prohibit an action  Rules that include the words "shall," "must," "require," "shall not," "may not," and "prohibit" shall be considered to contain regulatory restrictions."
2. Agency cannot adopt additional regulatory restrictions that "would cancel out the reduction" or exceed the Statewide Cap on regulatory restrictions. R.C. 121.953.
3. Extends current prohibition against an agency adopting any new regulatory restriction unless simultaneously removing two or more existing restrictions, R.C. 121.95(F).
4. Rules Excepted: Internal Management; Incorporated by Reference; Personal Confidential Information Access; not reviewable by Joint Committee on Agency Rule Review (JCARR).
5. Agency may show cause to JCARR why the required reduction should be lessened.

Penalties: JCARR may recommend rule invalidation if agency fails to justify its refusal. R.C. 106.031.

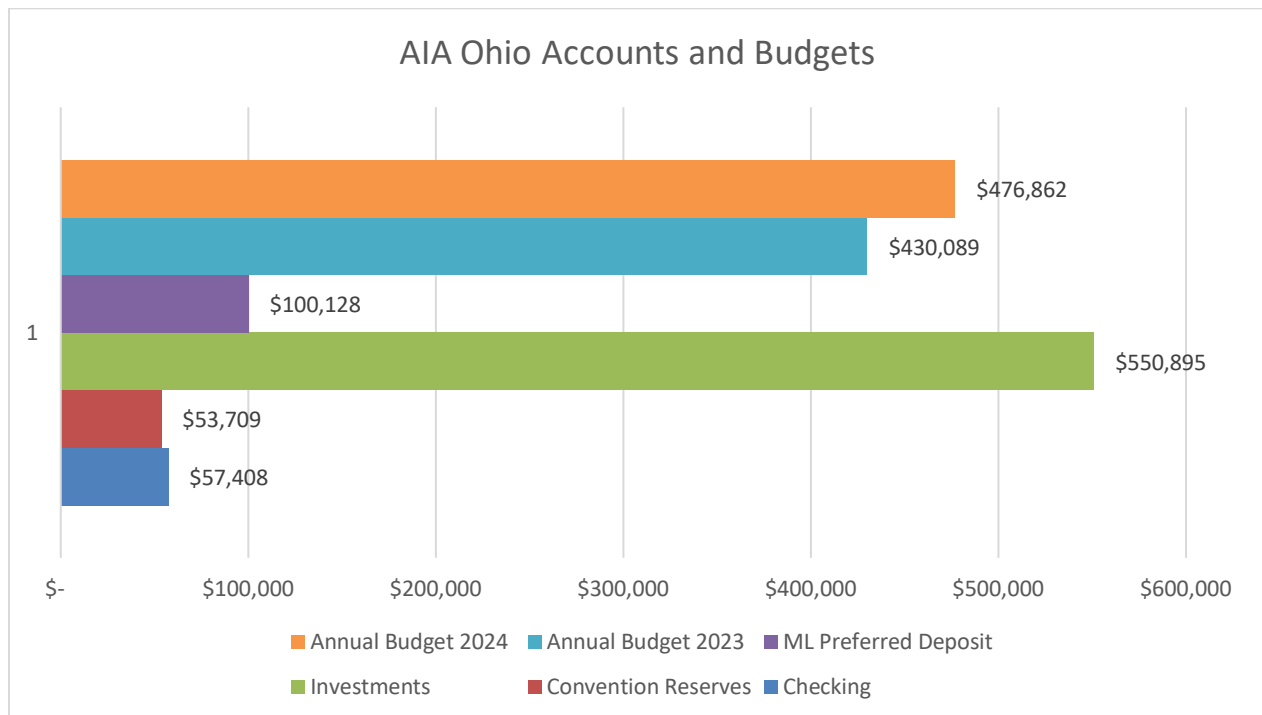

Treasurer's Report – November 17, 2022

By Eric Pros, AIA

In November, 2021, the AIA Ohio Board and component leaders met for two days to develop a three-year strategic plan. That group outlined programming and services that we believed would add value to membership while advancing our mission of advocating for the profession. We decided that in 2022, programs could be offered safely, in person, and would be spread to different locations throughout the state. Through the AIA Ohio Advocacy Day, Technology Summit, Design Symposium and Member Recognition Event we provided original content for learning and networking opportunities to members. While not financially profitable, the content and experiences provided contributed to the goal of increasing value to members. Throughout its history, AIA Ohio leadership has planned and saved for difficult times and because of that, AIA Ohio remains strong and well positioned to face the uncertainties of 2023 and beyond.

This chart illustrates at Sept. 30, 2022, AIA Ohio's funds compared to our annual budgets proposed for 2023 and 2024.

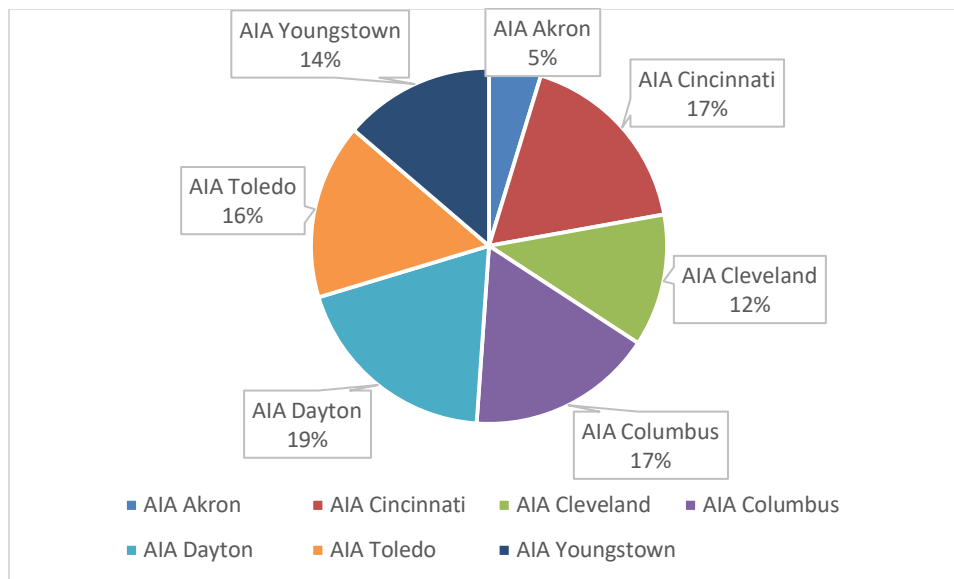

A few notes about this chart:

- Convention Reserves were set aside over time and specifically designated by past boards to be used in the event that a convention would not be financially successful. In 2021, AIA Ohio paid AIA Dayton $5,500 from this fund. The 2020 Convention was scheduled to take place in Dayton before it was cancelled.
- Investments have grown over time. AIA Ohio has not added money to this investment account in over ten years. Ten years ago, AIA Ohio investments totaled $425,338.

AIA Ohio and Collaboration

Over the years, AIA Ohio has worked collaboratively not only with local components to support projects and initiatives but also with Ohio's schools of architecture and emerging professionals.

The chart below shows funding allocated from AIA Ohio, from 2010-2020, to local Ohio components as a result of convention profit sharing, AIA Ohio Advocacy and Opportunity Grants and the AIA Ohio Special Initiatives fund.

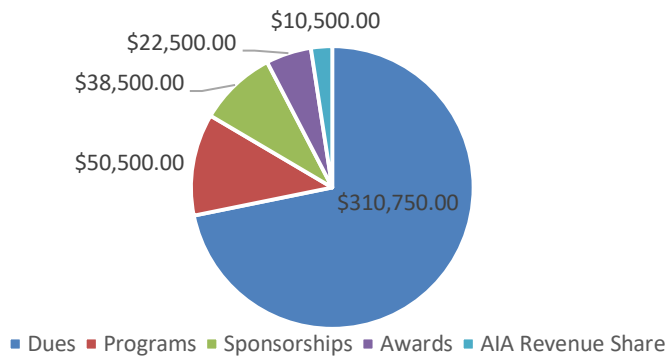

Additionally, since 2014 AIA Ohio has supported young and emerging professionals through CARES Grants. Over the past eight years, AIA Ohio has paid out $36,800 in grants to qualified individuals for taking and passing a section of the ARE.

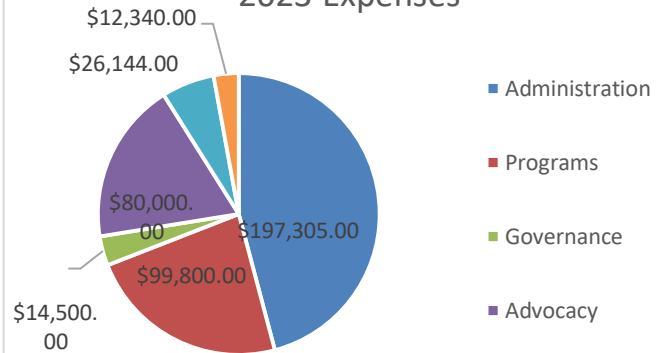

The 2023-24 budget proposal has been prepared and discussed by the Budget & Finance Committee, who worked with Kate Brunswick, CAE, Hon. AIA, to present the budget documents to the full Board in September.

2023 and 2024 Budgeted Revenues and Expenses

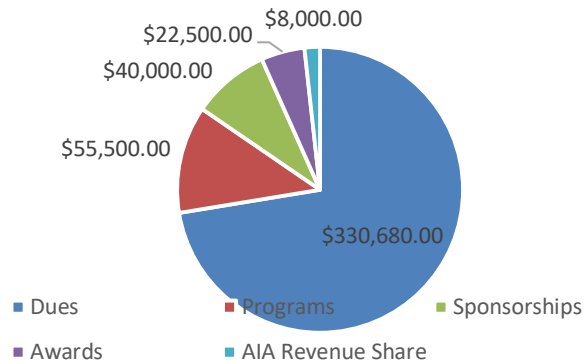

2023 Revenues

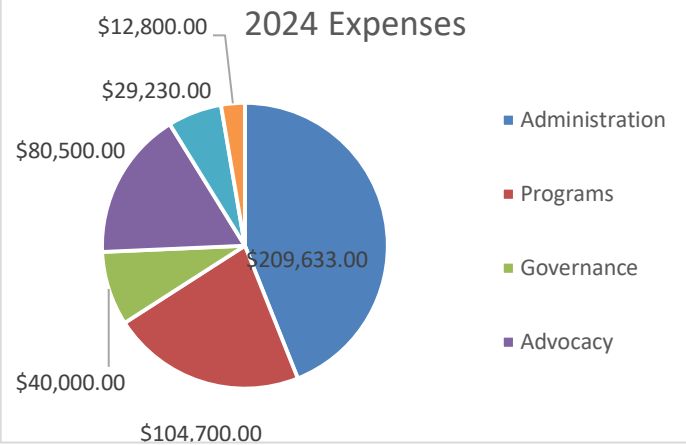

2023 Expenses

2024 Revenues

2024 Expenses

Overview of 2023-24 Budget Recommendations Regarding Income

Member Dues: The 2023 budget reflects no CPI increase. The 2024 budget reflects a 5% CPI increase.

Associate Dues: The 2023 budget reflects no CPI increase. The 2024 budget reflects a 5% CPI increase.

Directory: In 2023, AIA Ohio will move the directory to a digital format.

Sponsorships: Annual revenues from AIA Ohio Sponsor partners.

State Convention: Budget for 2023 and 2024 re-imagined statewide conference. Plans for 2023 include an event in September in Columbus.

Awards: We had 100 entries this year. For 2023 and 2024, the budget is based on 90 entries at $250.

AIA Revenue Sharing: AIA Ohio's portion of revenues shared from National with Ohio's components.

State Disaster Assistance: AIA Ohio will plan to offer Safety Assessment Program training in 2023.

Overview of 2023-2024 Budget Recommendations Regarding Expenses

Administration: No increase in administrative fees for 2023. A 5% CPI increase is budgeted for 2024.

Audit/Accounting: Per the AIA Ohio bylaws, we are required to conduct an annual audit each year.

Foundation Dues Assessment: This is money collected through the dues invoicing process on behalf of the AIA Ohio Foundation.

Legislative: based on anticipated activities.

Directory: Increase reflects building a digital directory.

Member Communications: includes AIA Ohio newsletter, weekly email service, and web site maintenance.

NAC and YAF Representative: With the dissolution of the AIA Ohio Valley Region, AIA Ohio now has a representative to the Young Architects Forum and a Representative to the National Associates Committee. The 2023 and 2024 expense budgets for this will fund these individuals to attend national meetings.

Annual Convention: Budget for a re-imagined AIA Ohio Annual Conference in 2023 and 2024.

Awards: The 2023 and 2024 budgets for awards reflect the rising cost of this program.

Bank Charges: AIA Ohio's bank account and investment fees

Schools Competition: Ohio Architectural Schools Competition.

Strategic Planning: 2024 is the third year of the current three-year strategic plan. The budget is for a strategic planning session to outline the next three years for AIA Ohio.

State Disaster Assistance: Funding for this group to conduct programming in 2022 and 2023.

ANNUAL REPORT
THE AIA OHIO FOUNDATION

2022

AIAOhio
Foundation

A MESSAGE FROM THE AIA OHIO FOUNDATION PRESIDENT

2022 has been a good year for the Foundation and the Board looks forward to 2023 as new opportunities present themselves. Without your help however, the Foundation would not be nearly as successful or effective. The support provided by AIA Ohio and the seven AIA chapters is greatly appreciated, and each grant we make, or scholarship we provide is the direct result of ongoing support and collaboration of the AIA Ohio membership.

In 2022, the Foundation continued our core focus on providing scholarships to students in Ohio's five accredited schools of architecture. Through our work with staff and leadership of the schools, the Foundation makes available $15,000 each year in support of scholarships for the schools. Since 2003, the Foundation has distributed $218,000 in scholarships to 105 students from across the state.

In a similar way, the Foundation has worked to support the American Institute of Architects Students (AIAS) chapters at each school. The AIAS, a separate entity from the AIA, supports student events and activities in the educational setting, much as AIA does within professional practices. From meetings to speakers to regional events, the AIAS supports students as they prepare to enter the profession. The Foundation assists in this effort through annual contributions to each of the five AIAS chapters in Ohio. Through grants of $1,500 to each program, the AIAS leadership is able to advance programming that might not otherwise be offered.

As you hopefully know, the work of the Foundation does not simply happen. The AIA Ohio Foundation Board of Trustees is a mix of experienced AIA Ohio members from across the state who join together to make the most of the organization's resources. The work of these individuals is critical to our success and we would not be able to function without their support and input. I would like to express my gratitude to all of the current and former board members for their time and contributions. I would also like to thank our Executive Director, Kate Brunswick, Hon. AIA, CAE for her work throughout the year. Without her dedication to the organization, much of what we do would go unfulfilled.

The strategic plan that we developed continues to serve us well as we strengthen the work we have been involved in for years and develop new programs to assist the ever changing profession. While our finances have been challenged this year like most other 501(c)(3) organizations, we look forward to a stronger organization in 2023 and beyond.

Once again, thank you for your help and support. The Foundation and the Foundation Board of Trustees appreciate the work of all individuals who support the advancement of the profession.

BRUCE SEKANICK, FAIA, OAA
President of the AIA Ohio Foundation Board of Trustees

OVERVIEW

THE AIA OHIO FOUNDATION AT A GLANCE

The AIA Ohio Foundation was chartered 54 years ago as part of AIA Ohio's efforts to develop an organization to provide funding and resources to support students, research and awareness of the profession within Ohio. Originally chartered as the Architects Society of Architects, or ASO Foundation, the organization officially changed its name to the AIA Ohio Foundation in 1993.

Today's Foundation is a lot more. While the organization understands the need to help fund the education of students seeking to enter the profession, the organization sees a broader need to connect students with the AIA. The AIAS grant program was started to reach a wider range of students beyond the single scholarship recipient at each school. This expands recognition of the AIA brand while also assisting the AIAS chapters in meeting student needs.

Over the past several years, the Foundation has also provided a component and affiliate organization grant program. These grants are focused on the broader recognition that valuable architecture education, awareness and programming occurs outside of the ability of the Foundation and state or local components. These grants recognize that awareness of the education begins early in life and that general awareness and recognition of the profession is important to those in K-12 programs. Many of the grants awarded over the past several years have been provided to reinforce an early understanding of the architectural profession.

As with many organizations and businesses, this has been a challenging year for investment accounts. More than a year ago, the Foundation Board took action to minimize the impact of a downturn in the economy by changing our investment allocations to include cash funds that would isolate some of our monies in the event of a change in returns. This policy change has served the organization well over the past 24 months as we have witnessed a wild fluctuation in returns, and losses, month to month. The Foundation Board works with our investment advisor on a regular basis to help ensure that monies contributed are invested in a manner that provides growth with minimized risk.

The Foundation is pleased to report that we continue to build upon the strong framework developed by past boards to ensure that the organization has a long, bright future. Those interested in supporting the Foundation in a more substantial manner can reach-out to any Board Member for additional information on how you can contribute to the Foundation in support of our mission.

2022 AIAS Grant Program

Initiated in 2017, the AIA Ohio AIAS Grant Program is now just over five years old and has resulted in contributions totaling over $22,000. This program was suspended during the pandemic, but resurrected this year in support of the AIAS chapters at the five accredited architectural programs. $1,500 grants were provided over the course of this year to each of the following AIAS chapters.

Miami University AIAS
The University of Cincinnati AIAS
The Ohio State University AIAS
Bowling Green State University
Kent State University AIAS

AIA Ohio Foundation Scholarship Program

The Foundation has continued our traditional scholarship program with each of the states five schools of architecture. These scholarships are valued at $3,000 and the awards are granted by each schools scholarship committee. Four scholarships have been awarded to date as part of this program. The schools who have submitted applicants include:

The University of Cincinnati
Kent State University
Bowling Green State University
Miami University

AIA Ohio Foundation Grant Program

The Foundations newest program is our affiliate grant program. Seeking to expand research, education and awareness, the Foundation has funded the following programs this year:

Dream Architecture, AIA Cleveland, $5,000
Columbus Camp Architecture, $2,300
ACE Mentor Akron/Canton, $2,500
AIA Cincinnati Architecture Exhibits, $4,000
Hatch Architecture K-12 Summer Workshop, $5,000

Congratulations to all of the recipients.

PROGRAMS

SCHOLARSHIPS, AIAS, & GRANTS

Learning through Engagement

As part of the Foundation's effort to better understand the needs of students, the Foundation has started a program that teams members of the Board with each of the architectural programs in the state. These teams engage students in the local AIAS chapter to understand each program and the way that the Foundation, and the profession at large, can connect with each other. These visits to the program are often coordinated with the award of AIAS grants.

The Foundation intentionally has imposed few limitations on the AIAS grants, as the needs of each school and program are different. Some schools have their own fundraising programs while others are supported through the university. The type of programming and events differ significantly, in much the same manner as AIA chapters are organized and function in different ways. Each program that the Foundation has met with has voiced their thanks and support for the grant program.

In order that we may continue this work, the Foundation asks that you consider a contribution to the organization. A 501(c)(3), the Foundation is a charitable, non-profit whose purpose is centered on supporting and advancing the architectural profession in Ohio. Your contributions can be one time or ongoing, but each can make a difference as we endeavor to provide ever-increasing support for students and affiliated components. To make a contribution, please reach out to the Foundation through AIA Ohio at aiaohio@assnoffices.com and we will contact you with more information.

AIA Component Matching Scholarship Grants

As has historically been the case, the AIA Ohio Foundation was a recipient of the AIA Component Matching Scholarship Grant in 2022. This grant is provided to components as a grant to assist in the continuation and development of student scholarships. The Foundation has been fortunate to receive this grant regularly over the years in support of our strong scholarship effort. The Foundation Board thanks Executive Director Kate Brunswick for her work in securing this annual grant.

Re: Strategic Council – Updates for the AIA Ohio Annual Meeting

2022 Council Goals

Input on the direction of council work comes from members, board members, council expertise & previous work

Provide recommendations and updates to the board throughout the year, versus end of year

Find synergies with other areas of the AIA to inform work and create a feedback loop

We asked, “what are the biggest issues facing the profession in the next 5-10 years?”

Technology and Practice Demands Technology is absolute and evolving at a pace that could devalue soft-skills.

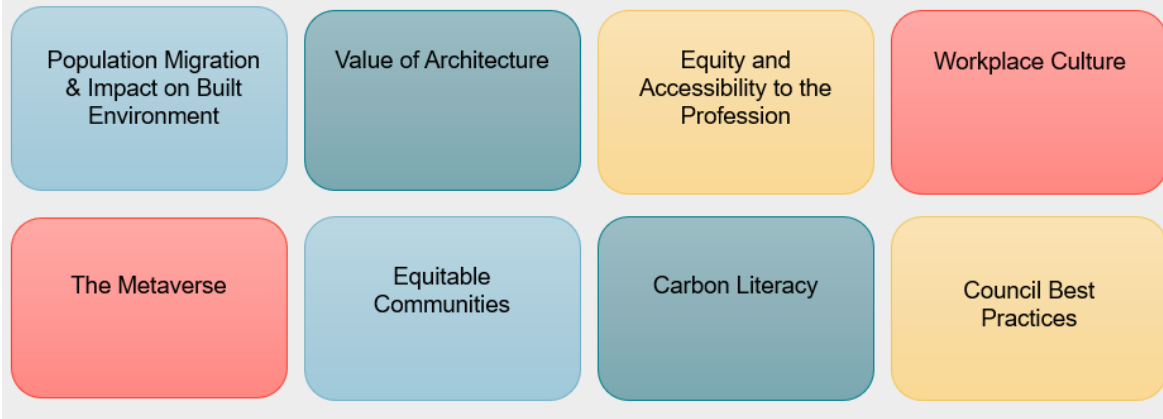

Workforce. The workload is increasing, and the labor supply is decreasing. Usually, this supply and demand scenario suggests higher prices, but architects aren't well known for accurately assessing and charging for their value.

People-focused leadership

Climate Change and Resilience Our ability to design and implement resilient solutions affects how we respond to climate change.

Community and policy engagement

AIA Strategic Council 2022 Coffee & Conversation Topics

Three recent Coffee & Conversations link together, studying different elements of equity and inclusion

AIA Strategic Plan Goal: Justice and equity. To ensure equity in the profession, in our communities, and for all who inhabit the built environment we design.

2022 Elections Results for the 2023 Strategic Council Positions

Strategic Council Moderator: Anne Hicks Harney, FAIA

SC At Large Representative to the Board: Korey White, AIA

At Large Representatives to the Strategic Council:

Andre Brumfield, Assoc. AIA, NOMA

Gwen Fuertes, AIA

2023 Strategic Council appointed positions:

Strategic Council Co-Moderator: Tate Walker, AIA

Strategic Council Best Practices Chair: Yanitza Brongers-Marrero, FAIA

Knowledge & Practice Updates:

- AIA has received the data and summary findings for this year's firm survey. We're finalizing the fields for a new online data dashboard and working on the report, to be released in October. The 2022 Sustainability & Resilience Trends report is also underway, for fall release, and we expect the 2030 Commitment numbers to be published in September.
- Seven students from HBCUs recently completed an internship with AIA and our EHDD design partners. Look for more information in a forthcoming AIA Architect. This work aligns with other efforts to meaningfully engage with NOMA and the NAAB-accredited HBCU architecture programs through the end of the year and beyond.
- Members can now update their Knowledge Community preferences as part of their AIA profile by visiting: <https://me.aia.org/s/interests>. Participation in one or more Knowledge Community correlates to broader AIA engagement!
- The new 2022 Firm Survey report is now available for FREE for AIA members, (and for purchase for $249 for non-members), through the AIA Store. Members can get more information and access their free copy at www.aia.org/firmsurvey.

The Firm Survey is one of our flagship research initiatives and gives us valuable longitudinal data to chart changes within the profession. When combined with the compensation survey report (new edition out in summer 2023), it gives our members (and the industry) comprehensive insights into the business side of the profession. Some of the benchmarks that we use from it are around tracking financial metrics, revenue and type of work architects are doing, distribution of staff—including charting the gender and ethnic/racial diversity of firms, and firm practices around EDI, sustainability, and technology use.

- America By Design – a New CBS Series About Architecture AIA continues to highlight and advance the work of architects. During conversations our new CEO had with members this year, many shared the importance of AIA promoting the value of architects to a larger audience. We're excited to share that we recently engaged with America By Design: Architecture, a six-part series on CBS promoting American architectural innovation, ingenuity, and design excellence. All architects highlighted in the shows are AIA members. We were pleased to participate in this opportunity through the power of partnership and collaboration without cost to AIA. This is a series you will not want to miss, especially Episode 4, which was filmed at AIA National in Washington, D.C., where AIA Board leadership had the honor of sharing the insight and inspiration of AIA members and the impact you have on society. The series starts Saturday, November 12 at 7:00pm ET with new episodes every week. We invite you to watch and share with your network, friends, and family Learn more about the series and the projects featured >

AIA Ohio - Young Architect Representative Report
Seth Duke, AIA

Young Architects Forum (YAF) - National:

The Young Architects Forum full committee began the year with an annual meeting in Charleston, SC from 03/02/22-03/04/22 with each of the YAF Focus Groups (Advocacy, Communications, Community, Knowledge, and Strategic Vision) meeting with new representatives and establishing an outline of their goals for the year. See each section below for highlights from each focus group.

Mid-year a call for volunteers for the YAF Advisory Committee for the positions of Knowledge Director, Advocacy Director, Communications Director, and Vice Chair was placed. The newly selected AdCom directors are:

Anastasia Markiw, 2023-2024 Advocacy Director
Gabriella Bermea, 2023-2024 Communication Director
Kiara Gilmore, 2023-2024 Knowledge Director
Jason Takeuchi, 2023 Vice Chair

For the remainder of the calendar year things are winding down with a few events to tie up the year and planning to transition for next year. New Young Architect Representatives whose term begins in 2023 will be attending the November YAF committee call and will have an orientation in January followed by the committee's annual meeting in February.

YAF Advocacy

The YAF Advocacy group began with a goal of focusing on topics of pay equity, environmental justice, and diversity, equity, and inclusion with aims to create continuing education webinars throughout the year.

In August there was a webinar focused on Universal Design: So You Want to Build an Equitable Future? Practice Innovation through Universal + Inclusive Design. To access on AIAU click here.

A second webinar on Mental Health + Architecture is planned for early December and will be focused on an open dialogue centered on mental health and further advancing the conversation. Moderator Emily Schickner, AIA Atlanta 2023 President, will be speaking with panelists about their personal experiences and perspectives along with their design work to discuss how architects can better address mental health. This will be December 6th, 2:00-3:30 EST and you can register here.

YAF Communications

The Communications Focus Group is primarily focused on publishing Connection, YAF's quarterly publication. The most recent issues can be found at the links below and those interested in contributing can always contact YAF for each issue.

Q4 2021 – Practice Innovation here.

Q1 2022 – Climate Action here.

Q2 2022 – Career Evolution here.

Q3 2022 is focused on Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, & Belonging and is currently being edited.

YAF Community

The YAF Community group goals included hosting Fireside Chats with allied organizations and AIA Knowledge Communities, a new mentorship toolkit publication for component use, and the ongoing coordination of the ALIGN mentorship program in partnership with the College of Fellows.

The Community Group hosted a Fireside Chat with COTE leaders to discuss how young architects can take tangible, actionable steps to achieve a more sustainable, resilient future.

The ALIGN Mentorship program was opened to new applicants, both Young Architects and Fellows and those applicants are in the process of being reviewed by this year's jury. This is an ongoing program that will be continuously evaluated and applications will be open again in fall of 2023.

YAF Knowledge

In June the Knowledge group held a webinar in partnership with the Committee on Design: Bridging the Spectrum of Design Experiences. This was a Pecha Kucha presentation and panel discussion about design-focused career paths across various demographics and age groups. Event panelists included Oscar Lopez, Assoc. AIA, Jonathan Moody, AIA, Eric Höweler, FAIA, and Ronnette Riley, FAIA with moderators Sarah Killingsworth, AIA, NCARB and Susan Chin, FAIA

The YAF Knowledge group facilitated the Mini MBA at the national conference in collaboration with the Large Firm Roundtable. This is an ongoing partnership that YAF and LFRT work on at each convention.

The YAF Knowledge Group also publishes a 1-page newsletter every other month with quick links and upcoming events. This year's newsletters are attached at the end of this report.

YAF Strategic Vision

The YAF Strategic Vision group is focused on the 5-year strategic vision for the committee. For the past 5 years that has been Practice Innovation. This year was the 30th year for the Young Architects Forum and in August Summit 30 was held to help establish the new strategic vision for the YAF.

In spring of this year the Strategic Vision group launched the Future Forward Grant Application in collaboration with the Large Firm Roundtable to support emerging professionals and young architects in the testing of new ideas that disrupt the traditional conception of practice, process, and product in the field of architecture. This inaugural grant was awarded at A'22 to Yuchen Song in the amount of $10,000 and will be available again in 2023 with applications expected to open in January.

In March the Strategic Vision group held virtual charrettes as an opportunity to shape the direction of YAF Summit 30. A toolkit was published so that any group could host their own charrette.

The YAF Summit occurred in Pittsburgh, PA August 25-27. This event saw teams of participants from all over the country look at the future of the planet and the practice of architecture over the next 100 years and were tasked with creating a challenge to replace the 2030 Challenge. The event will shape the strategic vision of the Young Architects Forum for the next 5 years. Emerging common themes from the event include architectural education, the role of the architect, and equity in the profession and the communities that architects serve.

The keynote speakers from the event will have their presentations available on AIAU, but they have not been uploaded yet.

Ohio Early Professionals

AIA Ohio launched the Early Professional Friendly Firm Program in the spring. 26 firms submitted applications and 23 firms received either the EPFF+ or EPFF designation. There was a considerable amount received feedback from firms, firm leaders, and other AIA leaders which along with the data from the submissions that were utilized to update and refine the program which will be opening up for applications again in Q1 of 2023.

In partnership with the AIA Ohio Associate directors, there have been ongoing calls each quarter with the Early Professional leaders and members from each component in Ohio focused on discussion of issues relevant to Early Professionals and sharing resources and ideas across the state.

Sincerely,

Seth Duke, AIA
Ohio Young Architect Representative
